Berlin: Opening speech " War, Money and Conscience " Canon Dr. Paul Oestreicher Brighton/GB	The right, not to carry and use a weapon leads – especially with an increasing use of technology in war and an abolition of the compulsory military service – to the right not to have to pay for weapons. It is necessary to couple the government's right to use weapons for defense with the individual alternative right to resist military service and war financing. This special right of a pacifistic resistance to pay taxes solely applies to the case of the national power monopoly.

Reports from The Countries 2000 - 2002	Compilation of reports: included in the documentation Indications exist that the war tax resistance can politically only be asserted, if the right to conscientious objection is acknowledged. Economic Cooperation and Development</li> <li>- Dr. Klaus Stephan Otto Forum Ziviler Friedensdienst</li> <li>- Roland Vogt/ GRÜNE / Bündnis 90, Conversion Delegate Of the State of Berlin-Brandenburg</li> </ul> Host: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Robert Antoch/ Netzwerk Friedenssteuer</li> </ul>	Hopp: The German third world aid policy as an important part of the extended security policy starts with the structural causes of war and terror, of a violent settlement of conflicts. It wants to contribute to the improvement of the structures within the countries concerned to support the civilian society and alliances for peace. – Even after violence and war have ended third world aid policy must aid reconstruction and reconciliation. – Within the own country it is important to sensitize and inform people. - Third world aid policy must definitely cooperate with foreign affairs, the defense policy but also with the economic and trade policy and furthermore achieve more coordination and cooperation internationally. The much quoted „Culture of Prevention“ must be started. Vogt: Prior to the federal election 1983 the GRÜNE agreed to a resistance to war tax; a small group has practiced this. – Germany needs a policy inspired by non-violence, which is also supported by the whole economy (against all black economy of armament and war). Otto: The Zivile Friedensdienst (ZFD) aims for a strengthening of the idea of an active non-violence within national social as well as international conflicts. Practically this means influencing conflicts nationally and internationally by reducing or preventing violence with trained qualified peace workers, organizing aid for victims, demanding compliance with human rights, supporting democratic processes or accompanying the reintegration of refugees and displaced persons. Trained qualified persons usually work one to two years on a project. – The forumZFD was able to gain their latest experiences in ex-Yugoslavia, Palestine and on Cyprus. (see also www.forumZFD.de). - Still unsolved is the problem: there are still no appropriate civilian means for a concrete violent conflict.

Evening of The Countries	After listening to and comparing the reports from the countries the „Evening of The countries“, starting with a dance, brought some relaxation. The late summer evening was wonderfully warm; the outside illumination created a nice deep dusk and the dance loosened up legs and heads. Then several participants presented poems, prose and sketches, the participants listened to the sounds of piano and guitar tunes as well as songs:
Pantomime	In this multi-language atmosphere actions without words were something that united in a special way. With the pantomime Günther Richter we presented the joie de vivre as a fantastic sculpture on the one side and on the opposite side avarice, rage and hatred in form of live sculptures clarifying plainly what it is they rob the joie de vivre of.
Public Relation Work	A press conference was held and a final press release submitted with the final announcement . (see documentation) The event was covered by broadcast, press and TV on a local, regional and national level (completely listed in the documentation or on the web site)
Organization	A team of 9 voluntary persons plus Friedrich Heilmann working on a fee basis organized the conference (photos see web site) The translations were done by four voluntary participants.
Co-organizer	Co-organizers included: Bund für Soziale Verteidigung, Heinrich-Böll-Stiftung Brandenburg, Stiftung Mitarbeit, INKOTA-Netzwerk e.V., Kooperation Eine Welt-Katholischer Fonds für Bildung
